Dear Ms. Hunker,

I don't have any information to share on those topics at this point—we're still in the process of evaluating our litigation options.

Warm regards,

Rebecca

Subject: VRLC v. Cardona, 1:20-cv-11104-WGY

Dear Ms. Kopplin,

I represent the State of Texas in the above matter. On July 28, 2021, the U.S. District Court for the District of Massachusetts issued an order for judgment in VRLC v. Cardona, 1:20-cv-11104-WGY. In that order, the Court upheld the vast majority of the Department of Education's 2020 Title IX Rule but found Section 106.45(b)(6)(i)'s prohibition of statements not subject to cross-examination to be arbitrary and capricious. I write to inquire whether the Department: (1) intends to appeal the court's finding that Section 106.45(b)(6)(i) violates the Administrative Procedure Act; and (2) intends to defend the upheld portions of the Title IX Rule should the plaintiffs elect to appeal.

Thanks in advance for your prompt response.
